FIFTH ANNUAL CROWS' NEST PASS MUSICAL FESTIVAL

We regret that time and space will not permit us making any more than passing reference to the fifth annual Crows' Nest Pass Musical Festival, staged here on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

The attendance exceeded all previous festivals, the opera house being well filled for the afternoon sessions and crowded to standing room each evening. The adjudicators, Mr. E. F. Layton of Lethbridge, and Mr. Clifford Higgins, of Calgary, repeatedly referred during the season to the increased interest being manifested in his annual affair. The programme was successfully crowded into three days, in spite of the fact that there were about forty more entries than last year.

Particularly interesting were the evening programmes, in which such heavy items as choirs, orchestras, duets, quartettes and solos were listed. By special request, the Hillcrest junior orchestra, under the able leadership of Mr. J. E. Upton, appeared a second time on Tuesday, while the Hillcrest Concert Party, composed of some twenty Welsh male voices, greeted the audience for a second time last night, each appearance being received with loud applause. Last night's programme was presented by festival winners, a list of which will appear in our next issue.

A TRIBUTE TO WM. POWELL

(By a Bellevue Friend)

Editor, Blaimore Enterprise.

When it was made known that William Powell had passed into the unknown, it seemed "as when a kindly cedar, green with boughs, goes down with great shout upon the hills, and leaves a lonesome place against the sky."

Ten short months ago, Will came to Bellevue from Wales. Gentle, retiring, with the mind of a scholar and the soul of a musician—to know him was to love him.

He has passed on, and only to an intimate few were his accomplishments known, so shy and retiring was the man's nature. In his home at Bellevue, he has left behind him a library of choice reading, mute evidence of his cultured mind. To us who knew him, he remains a fragment memory.

"Meantime the silent lip—
Meantime the climbing feet."

INSTITUTE PUBLIC LIBRARY

We acknowledge seven volumes from Mr. Christophers and ten volumes from Mr. McDowell.

Having succeeded in securing the first 1000 volumes which we set as our objective before opening the library, we have decided upon a new objective—2000 volumes before the end of 1929. Will you help us?

The number of persons already using the library shows that we are meeting a real need in the community and great possibilities of service are opening up before us.

The library is open on Tuesdays, 7 to 9 p.m., and Saturdays, 2 to 5.30 and 7 to 9 p.m.

We've been thinking that a good job for a fellow who cannot speak a word of English would be calling for the modern dance.

COLEMAN LODGE COMES OF AGE

The members of the Knights of Pythias Lodge, together with the Pythian Sisters and a large number of friends, gathered in the Castle Hall at Coleman on Monday night to celebrate the twenty-first birthday of the subordinate lodge there.

The programme opened with a sumptuous banquet, following which were remarks by Bro. W. Griffith, a charter member, who acted as chairman. One of the principal features of the after programme was the presentation of a veteran's jewel to Bro. W. Nelson. Brother Nelson responded, thanking the members for the signal recognition of his membership. Other items included an address by Bro. Dave Gillespie, song by Bro. W. Nelson, song by Mrs. J. Ramsay, violin solo by Mr. D. M. Ramsay, address by Sister Glendinning, Pythian Sisters Grand March, Scotch dance by Miss Ramsay and encore, cornet solo by Bro. J. Lowe, song by Mr. Percy Salt and sword dance by Miss Ramsay.

After the programme, dancing ensued, with Mrs. Salt, of Hillcrest, furnishing music.

A monster birthday cake was cut and distributed during the evening.

Among those present were quite a number of brothers and sisters from Blaimore and Hillcrest. An invitation had also been extended to lodges at Michel and Fernie to be present, but owing to the practically impassable condition of the roads between Michel and Crows' Nest, they were unable to be present.

The senior manual training can take two more students only this season.

The Jesse-Craft Art meets on Mondays at 7.30. Personal instruction is offered. We can accept several more students, adults only.

Easter Sunday was observed at St. Alban's Anglican church, Coleman, with the ringing of the new bell, which was donated as a memorial gift by Mr. George H. Snood, in memory of his wife, who died last year and who was a devoted member of the congregation and took a very active interest among the girls of the church. The choir members were attired in their new surplices and caps for the first time.

Corinne Griffith's "Divine Lady" drew good houses at the Orpheum theatre on Friday and Saturday nights last. It is a rollicking-funny story pictured in such a manner as to thrill one from start to finish. The new management of the Orpheum are to be congratulated on the high class of pictures and entertainment being presented.

Rev. W. T. Young, honorary president of the Crows' Nest Pass Musical Festival, arrived from Calgary on Monday morning for the fifth annual competitions. Other visitors included Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Mackenzie and their son Donald.

"Oh yes," he replied absently. "You were gone for some time this morning she stated."

"Yes," he concurred, "I went up to bring Connie."

"Oh!"

Janet's fine eyebrows lifted slightly, and she looked at Donald with a curious intention. "Why didn't she come?"

"She wasn't home."

Her woman's intuition long ago had told her that the "woodpile"—as Donald called Connie—was really in love with him. As she looked at him now and noticed his pre-occupied air, a pang of jealousy shot through her heart like an arrow. Was it possible that he had begun to realize that the wild girl of the woods was not a child, and that a love for her had been kindled in his heart? The thought made her feel faint and she tried to put it from her mind.

Lunch was finished now and they were walking back to the lake. Douglas invited the party to take a trip around the lake in a motor-boat, to which they assented gleefully.

Janet hesitated as Donald turned away with "Walnwright. Aren't you coming, Mr. McLean?" she called.

Donald turned and shook his head. "I may be needed here," he said briefly.

Janet flushed to the roots of her dark hair and bit her lip in anger. She was not used to being thwarted in her desires.

Donald and Walnwright seated themselves on a bench under the willows and lighted cigarettes. Donald was ill at ease. The sound of Connie's tragic sobbing was ringing in his ears. He could see her little figure writing on the ground in a tempest of grief that had torn at his heart-strings. He sprang involuntarily to his feet and began pacing the ground with quick, nervous strides. Walnwright glanced up at him interrogatively.

"You seem worried," he volunteered.

"I am," Donald admitted briefly. "Donald was in a better of inde-

lon. How should he through this delicate subject? Although poor as he the proverbial church-mouse, Connie's father had the pride of London. There was natural dignity in his bearing, a certain aloofness in his manner, that in no way interfered with his unfailing courtesy, but had always precluded exchange of intimacies. He had resided in this wilderness for many years, but some could say that they had any more knowledge of his affairs at this moment than on the day of his arrival.

Donald decided to take the plunge. He sat down on the bench beside Connie's father and related the scene he had witnessed that morning—of Connie's preening before the mirror with the magazine page pinned to the logs; of the struggle with her hair; of the flour sack, and of the piteous sobbing of the heart-broken child.

Walnwright's face flushed painfully. There was a look of poignant suffering in his grave eyes. Of all the races in the world, the English, especially of the better class—light most stoically to hide their distress.

Walnwright leaned forward, his throat working convulsively as he struggled to regain composure.

"I hope you do not consider me presumptuous," said Donald, a note of anxiety in his tone.

Walnwright's hand reached forth to clasp Donald's firmly. "No, I do not doubt your sincerity. An inordinate sense of pride has kept me in my present circumstances.

This circumstance you have related has brought me to a realization that it is a selfish pride, as it has denied Connie the privileges to which she is entitled. There is nothing I can say," he went on in bitter self-condemnation, "that can even partially condone or palliate my stupidity. I should have known that she would require proper clothing now that she is grown up."

He paused, his distress acute—"my finances are at a low ebb."

"How old is Connie?" asked Donald, hoping to relieve Walnwright's embarrassment.

"Nineteen."

Donald's head came up with a jerk. "What!" he almost shouted.

"She is nineteen," Walnwright reiterated, a peculiar expression in his eyes as he noticed Donald's bewilderment.

"Nineteen!" Donald re-echoed, a bemused look on his face. "Great Scott! This is a surprise. I thought of Connie as being not more than fourteen or fifteen."

"Connie's healthful outdoor life has tended to keep her young, and her mother, of dancing exuberance, the youthful effect," said her father as he sat down wearily, a far-away look in his eyes. "Her mother," he went on softly, a tremor in his voice, "was just like her at the age of twenty-five. She looked almost a child." He turned to Donald. "No doubt you have wondered why I buried myself in this wilderness?"

Donald nodded. At this moment they were interrupted by members of the Sports Committee, who wanted Donald's advice on a matter pertaining to the afternoon's programme.

It was evident to Donald as he withdrew that Walnwright had been about to disclose his past history, a history which had been locked in his heart these many years.

At three o'clock the crowd gathered toward the race-course. The centre of the valley had been cleared of underbrush, and the long grass burned under the watchful eye of the fire-ranger. A small creek, and a few swampy places had been "cordoned off" with cedar poles and then covered with soil. A judges' stand, with a few hastily erected seats for Janet's party, stood near the finishing post. The horse-race as has been said, was to be the feature event of the day. The crowd surged happily from the lake-shore to line up in orderly ranks about the oval.

The brilliant, and diversified colours of the Kootenai's skirts and head-gear showed in bright contrast to the drab wearing apparel of the white men.

The Siwash Indians were dressed in nondescript clothing as to trousers and coat, but one and all wore wide-brimmed cowboy hats and displayed skill handkerchiefs or gorgeous hues, knotted at the throat to drape their shoulders carelessly.

Three husky farmers' sons from Pemberton rode to the starting-line amid hearty hand-clapping and shouting from their friends. A swarthy-skinned rider, mounted on a spirited black cayuse, came prancing through the crowd. He lifted his hat and smiled in acknowledgment of the plaudits of the spectators. This was Joe Lafonta, the half-breed who had won first prize at the Lillooet races for the past two seasons.

The wise ones averred that Paul John, of the Indian contingent, would give him a hard race. Paul John's cayuse was young, but the previous year he had run the all-breeders' horse, a close second. Money was being placed on all sides, particularly by the Indians, who are inveterate gamblers. Amid an excited babble in Chinook, nine Indian riders came laughing and shouting, with much waving of hats, to prance about and display their horsemanship before the admiring crowd.

Donald, with Andy, Gillis and Walnwright, stood leaning over the edge of the judges' stand watching the animated scene below.

At this moment, there was an agitation at the far end of the oval, where the crowd opened to admit a horse and rider that came tearing down the course like the wind.

"Look!" Donald shouted excitedly as he seized Walnwright's arm. "It's Connie!"

Down the course, riding like a spirit of the woods, came the girl, her golden hair blowing about her face, sitting astride her mettlesome horse and riding as if the wilderness belonged to her alone.

Pegasus was not used to crowds. With arched neck and quivering flanks he reared on his hind legs to pole an instant, then leaped forward like a rabbit. Connie sat on the bare back of her adored cayuse as though a part of the animal, her slender body moving in gentle undulations in perfect co-ordination with the movements of the horse. She was hard set to keep from running over the other riders who sat mouths agape.

Connie was unknown to the greater part of the crowd. To them this childlike equestrian, with her mass of shining hair, appeared as an apparition. Her firm little hands soon checked her turbulent mount, who stood trembling with nervousness. The crowd gave her a rousing welcome as soon as they had recovered from their astonishment.

"Who is she? Where does she come from?" they shouted.

Connie kept her eyes fixed on the ground. She was outwardly calm and serene; inwardly she was as nervous as her fretting cayuse, and did not dare raise her flushed face to meet the battery of eyes around her.

Resident Of Vancouver, Through Death Of Cousin, Becomes a Baronet

A second Canadian romance of the British peerage within recent weeks has come to light in Vancouver, in the succession of Eric Windham Francis Carmichael-Anstruther, to the baronetcy of Carmichael and Anstruther.

The Vancouver man, now Sir Eric Windham Francis Carmichael-Anstruther, bart., has left for the family seat, Carmichael House, Thunkerton, Lanarkshire, Scotland, to settle matters in connection with the estate following the death of his cousin, Sir Windham Frederick Carmichael-Anstruther, bart.

Sir Eric expects to be in the old country about three months, after which it is his intention to return to Vancouver, where he has been employed as a draftsman for the past three years.

Sir Eric comes of a very old Scottish family which traces its ancestry for 700 years. He will be the 11th baronet of Anstruther, created in Scotland in 1709, and eighth of Carmichael, created in England, in 1798. According to a directory of titled persons he will also assume the honor of hereditary carver of the royal household in Scotland and one of the masters of the household.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

FRUIT FRITTERS

2 oranges.

1 egg.

1/4 teaspoon salt.

1/2 cup milk.

1/2 cup flour.

1/2 tablespoon cooking oil.

1/2 teaspoon baking powder.

1/2 teaspoon sugar.

Beat egg until light; add milk, flour, sifted with baking powder, sugar and salt, and oil or melted butter. Beat until smooth. Pare oranges, removing membrane with sugar; cut in slices, and sprinkle with apple and a few drops lemon juice. Have deep fat, hot enough to brown a piece of bread while counting to thirty. Dip orange sections in batter mixture, and fry in deep fat until puffed and brown. Do not fry too many at one time. Drain on brown paper, sprinkle with powdered sugar, and serve with orange sauce.

APPLE AND ORANGE SALAD

Peel and slice oranges, rejecting white membrane. Cut wedge-shaped slices from red apples, without paring. Arrange on lettuce-covered salad plates, using alternate slices of orange and apple.

GRAPEFRUIT SALAD

Peel oranges and grapefruit and divide into segments, rejecting all white skin. Arrange a circle of orange segments on a lettuce-covered salad plate and fill centre with grapefruit segments.

Automobile Is Real Benefit To Humanity

Curse Is Man Who Does Not Use It Wisely

The automobile, in itself, cannot be a curse to anyone. The curse of the automobile is that of the human element, of the man who does not know how to use wisely an instrument of real benefit to humanity.

Unfortunately the human element cannot always be controlled. There always will be those who use automobiles for law-breaking purposes, and who drive them so recklessly as to endanger the lives of other people.

If all automobile owners and drivers were imbued with a real sense of their responsibility to their fellow men, there would be very few accidents and there would be no need of judges or anyone else having to make remarks derogatory to a machine that has become an essential part of this country's life.

Reduce the Acid

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia

Back stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach acid and indigestion sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Inventor's Claim Unusual

Wisconsin Chemist Says His Mechanical Device Can Be Taught

Claim that he has invented a mechanical device which is capable of being "taught" is made by Dr. H. D. Baerstein of the University of Wisconsin physiological chemistry department, following a challenge issued six months ago by C. L. Hull, professor of psychology at the state school.

Dr. Baerstein's "thinking" apparatus consists of numerous switches, wires and an incandescent light. The mechanism, he said, is so arranged that the bulb may be lighted by one of the switches and that any of the other switches may be "taught" to light the bulb. The operation he claimed is analogous to the presentation of stimuli.

"The machine," Dr. Baerstein declared, "is merely a symbol of mechanism of the human body."

Externally Or Internally, It Is Good.—When applied externally by brisk rubbing, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil opens the pores and penetrates the tissue, touching the seat of the trouble and immediately affording relief. Administered internally, it will still the irritation in the throat which induces coughing and will relieve affections of the bronchial tubes and respiratory organs. Try it and be convinced.

Just a Memento

First Housewife—"I suppose you carry a memento of some sort in this pocket of yours?"

Second Ditto—"Yes, it is a lock of my husband's hair."

"But your husband is still alive?"

"Yes, but his hair is gone."

Has a Reason

The mayor of Minneapolis has been asked to confiscate and destroy all the Golden Bibles in that city. The reason is logical enough—the Scriptures say a lot about St. Paul but nothing about Minneapolis.

None of us ever gets anything for nothing, but that doesn't keep us from trying.

Little Helps For This Week

"Do thy diligence."—2 Timothy iv. 9.

There lies no desert in the land of life.

For you that treat that barrenest desert seem.

Laborers of these, in faith and hope,

With heavenly harvest and rich gathering lie.

—Frances Kemble.

When you awake in the morning, and when that heavy pain wakes too,—oh, so sharply!—and the burden of a monotonous life falls down upon you, or rises like a dead, blank wall before you, making you turn round on your pillow, longing for another night instead of an insupportable day, rouse yourself. Remember what you are—a child of God! Say, "What have I got to do today?" Not "What have I to enjoy or suffer" but "What have I to do?" Don't try to be happy, but try to work, work for God, and happiness will come.

Reduce the Acid

Back stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach acid and indigestion sour. Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any druggist.

Canada's Future

In a very fine address by Mr. Graham Spry, secretary of the Association of Canadian Clubs, and printed in "The Canadian Nation," the subject of Canadian unity is dealt with under the title "One Nation, Two Cultures," which was likewise the heading over the article appearing in this column last week. In fact, last week's article was inspired by Mr. Spry's address. In his speech, Mr. Spry urged that above all the two Canadian races should be frank with each other, speak out their feelings freely and courteously, and attack that underlying menace, the fear, the suspicion which ignorance breeds; and "working for common national ends, working the same national institutions, and developing the same national estate, they will learn to know each other, to recognize each as a Canadian, to feel a sense, not of fear, but of partnership." This he said.

"One nation, two cultures; one nationality, two races; one loyalty, two tongues, on this the Dominion of Canada is founded, on this the partnership rests by solemn contract, by mutual trust. And thus it must abide or perish. Let it abide, and the nation will grow greater, and the world richer that two races, full of spirit, rich in the heritage that time endows, a tongue, a culture, each their own and shared at times in common, may live in amity as one, secure, serene, partners in the development of the noble estate to which we are fortunate successors. Let it fall, let race seek to dominate race, let prejudice take its rein and ride rough through the fine bonds that unite us and Confederation shall perish, and the peoples of Canada be thrust towards a future, dark and impenetrable."

Looking back over the sixty-four years of Confederation, can any one imagine what the position of the present Dominion of Canada would be had the Canadian people of both races in 1867 not agreed to sink their differences and agree upon compromise policies and enter into a solemn compact with each other, both for the present and the future. Had such agreement not been reached there would have been no Confederation. Had there been no Confederation what would in all likelihood be the position now of British North America today?

Would it be British? It is extremely doubtful. Long ere this it is highly probable that large sections of what is now Canada would have become merged in the United States. Certain it is that failing Confederation, the isolated Crown colonies would have remained weak, undeveloped. Instead, we have a great and prosperous Dominion, rapidly forging to the front as one of the great nations of the world, a tower of strength to the Empire, and already exerting no mean influence in the councils of the nations. The union effected by the solemn guarantees of the act of Confederation was not alone the creation of the Dominion; it was the salvation of the country at large.

Not only must the letter of that contract be lived up to, but the spirit must be observed. Failure on the part of the people, whether of British or French extraction, to recognize both the letter and the spirit of the union effected by Confederation will be fatal to the existence. And if Confederation fails, what are we to put in its place? Confederation is weakened by sniping tactics on the part of one race against the other, and if Confederation is weakened it may perish. On the other hand, cordial acceptance of the spirit of the Confederation, which we all last annually on Dominion Day, will add strength to the structure, and enable a united Canadian people to resist all attacks upon their sovereignty and develop in peace their great heritage.

As Mr. Graham Spry truly states, any other future for Canada but that bound up in full acceptance of terms and spirit of the Confederation pact is indeed dark and impenetrable.

Utilizing Waste Product

Hot Water From Pueblo Factories
Cleans Ice From Streets

Hot water as a waste product from ice plants and other factories of Pueblo, is being used by the city highway department to remove snow and ice from the highways. Street sprinklers and flushers are filled with the hot water and driven to the downtown streets. With one sprinkler following another, both directing streams of hot water onto the pavement, snow and ice melt immediately and are drained away. The hot water, obtained free, saves the city large amounts usually spent shoveling and hauling snow off the streets.

The trouble about mild weather which saves fuel bills lies in the fact that too often the saving has to be paid to the doctor.

Prisoner For Eight Years

Russian Boy Punished By Father For Joining Red Army

A story of an eight-year imprisonment of a boy by his father in a pit near their hut in the village of Savshino, Kursk province, has been brought to Moscow. In 1915 young Tarasoff joined the Red Army and three years later returned to his native village filled with enthusiasm for the new order. His reactionary father told him that he had joined the army to keep him there until the return of the old order. Recently the father died and the villagers, chancing upon the living grave, exhumed the worn and wrinkled man who although only 29 years of age and snow white hair. He was said to have been placed in a hospital.

PAINS IN THE BACK

These Are Usually Due To A Weakened Condition Of The Blood

The muscles of the back are constantly under heavy strain, and have but little rest throughout the day. They are therefore in need of rest and nourishment and strength that plenty of pure red blood can give them. Unless they have this help, you will have backache and continue to have it.

Backache seldom or never means kidney trouble. It is nothing more than the tired, worn-out muscles of the back showing their exhaustion because of the lack of good, pure blood. The one generally recognized remedy for blood trouble is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When the blood has been improved through the use of this medicine, backache disappears. Mrs. F. Fairbairn, Essex, Ont., tells what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for her in a case of this kind. She says: "I suffered for nearly three years with a weak back. At times the pains were so bad that I had to walk with a cane. I had tried several doctors with very little benefit. A friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so, and oh, the joy of once more being able to stand up straight without suffering intense pain. After using two boxes there was no doubt they were helping me. I used eight boxes in all and have not since had a sign of the trouble. I can do all my household work and feel free and vigorous as formerly. For all this I thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. If your dealer does not keep these pills you can get them by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

So Sympathetic

Mrs. Morningcall—Where is your magnificent big dog? You don't mean to tell me you've sold him. Mrs. Nixup—Yes, we sold him. It seemed a shame for a dog to occupy that commodious doghouse this winter when so many people are homeless and we disposed of him and rented his home to an artist.

The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds, those that find lodgment in the stomach and those that are found in the intestines. The latter are the most destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not interfered with work havoc there. Miller's Worm Powders dislodge both kinds and while expelling them from the system serve to repair the damage they have caused.

Mike was engaged to do a job for Mr. Smith. After a while he came in saying the job was completed and asked for his money. "But, Mike, I wanted two coats of paint on that building," said Mr. Smith. Cold Killed B.C. Beaver

Many Imprisoned In Lakes Which Were Frozen To Bottom

Thousands of beaver are believed to have perished in their homes in the lakes and streams of interior British Columbia as a result of the recent protracted cold spell.

Harry Smith, who has trapped beaver in the Abasco, Lake and Grizzly Swamp country, reports that many of the little animals are dead in the higher altitudes and he bases his belief on the observations of a woodsman of many years experience who told him that the beaver huts were in shallow water. Heavy frosts came before the snow. The result is that many lakes are frozen to the bottom and the beaver imprisoned therein.

Smith believes that as the water was low in the lakes the entrance to the beaver huts was in shallow water. Heavy frosts came before the snow. The result is that many lakes are frozen to the bottom and the beaver imprisoned therein.

Monarchy Divides Germany

Many Incidents Show People Still Cling To Old System Of Rule

Many incidents are constantly happening in Germany to show that the people are still sharply and incurably divided over the question of the monarchy. At Breslau a motion before the city council to remove the statues of three former emperors, including the ex-emperor, and to rename streets in honor of revolutionary heroes occasioned a bitter fight but was passed by a vote of 30 to 38. At Nurnberg, Silesia, when guests entered a hall on the occasion of a state dinner the portraits on the walls of three former emperors were seen to be covered. This precipitated a sharp quarrel and conflict which broke up the party.

Shipping Is Handicapped On account of the narrow waterway bar across the channel, connecting Lake Maracaibo with the Gulf of Venezuela, only vessels drawing less than 12 feet of water can enter the port, with the result that but two ships, one American, one American and one Dutch, maintain a weekly passenger and freight service between New York and Maracaibo.

SAYS WORLD IS APPROACHING A FINANCIAL CRISIS

London, Eng.—Sir George Paish, British financial and economist, who recently predicted the world was approaching a financial crisis, considers the 20 per cent. call money rate reached on the New York Stock Exchange a possible forerunner of the crisis, he told the United Press.

"The white-haired authority on world economic conditions pointed to recent bank rates in various countries as indications that the world was suffering from what he termed 'financial sickness'."

"I am no prophet, however," he said. "I am simply an interested observer attempting to diagnose the world's financial troubles. In my recent speech at Manchester, I simply called attention to a situation which I have been watching develop for some time past."

The world in general was over-borrowing, with the possible exception of South America, Sir George said. He emphasized "the utter folly" of various nations erecting tariff barriers, which would prevent reimbursement of their mutual debts.

"It is of very great moment," he said, "that the situation should be surveyed not only by bankers and business men but by statesmen as well, in order that a collection effort may be made to avert a still more dangerous situation than now exists."

"High money rates in America since the middle of last year have been a notification to the world in general that America's power to lend has become much smaller and it is obvious that still higher rates of interest now current in America and the effort of American bankers to restrict credit already granted in the states themselves imply an almost total cessation of American credit to outside countries," Sir George said.

"Moreover, a high rate of interest cannot fail to affect American business adversely. If it is borne in mind that the great quantity of credit granted by the United States until the present time has been mainly responsible for the maintenance of world prices for commodities at the present level it is obvious that restriction of this credit must bring about a general fall of prices with consequences to producers throughout the world that cannot easily be measured."

"The situation would be exceedingly difficult if the volume of credit already granted were of normal dimensions, but, having regard to the vast amount of credit that has been granted throughout the world, it is obvious that restriction of American credit at the present time in the manner that seems probable cannot fail to cause a great world wide monetary stringency which in turn cannot fail to have serious consequences to both credit and business."

The commission will proceed direct to Vancouver, where the members will attend some of the sessions of the National Council of Education, which has placed on the convention agenda several papers relating to the radio question. A debate will also be held on the subject: "A national policy or exploitation of the radio." Hearings will be held in Vancouver and Victoria.

Public sittings will be held later in Edmonton, Calgary, Saskatoon, Regina, Moose Jaw, Brandon, Winnipeg, Port Arthur and Fort William, followed by a tour of Ontario, Quebec Maritime provinces and a visit to a number of centres in the United States.

The final report of the commission is expected to be submitted to the government before Parliament prorogues.

Disastrous Prairie Fire

Large Strip Of Country Swept Bare By Flames

Regina.—A prairie fire started northeast of Neudunville, Sask., destroyed thousands of acres of pasture, the buildings on three farms, and was responsible for a man being sent to the hospital at Medicine Hat where his wounds, though serious, are not thought to be fatal.

A strip of country about ten miles wide and twenty-five miles long was swept bare. At its closest to the main line of the C.P.R., it was ten miles away, north of Tompkins.

George Campbell lost his barn and outbuildings but managed to save his stock, some of this being singing when running through the fire. His loss is estimated at $3,000.

John Fisher and family were driven from their home, which was destroyed by the flames and are staying with neighbors. Mr. Fisher also lost all his buildings and feed for spring work on the farm. His loss is placed at $1,500.

Fred Robinson, by plowing a fire-guard around his buildings saved these, but lost all his feed, valued at $300.

American Soldier Reported 'Killed In Action' Asks To Be Declared Alive

Santa Rosa, Cal.—Thomas R. Smith, of this city, reported "killed in action" during the World War, is very much alive and has appealed to the American Legion in an effort to have himself declared so.

For 10 years the government has been insisting that Smith's sister, Mrs. Nellie Johnson of this city, accept $10,000 in war risk insurance for her brother's "death."

Mrs. Johnson and her brother both emphatically refuse to admit he is "dead," and now Smith has asked the American Legion to aid in straightening out the records at Washington.

Train Crew Arrested

Responsible For Wreck At Arcourt According To Coroner's Finding

Perry Sound, Ont.—Responsibility for the wreck of two Canadian National trains at Arcourt, with a death toll of at least fourteen was placed on the crew of the northbound train No. 3 in the written verdict of Special Coroner J. B. Broughton.

Criminal proceedings were at once instituted against the three surviving members of the crew and charges of manslaughter were laid against Engineer J. V. Alexander, Fireman E. Riley and Rear End Brakeman Charles Corrie.

The arrest of the three trainmen followed the verdict of the coroner's inquest on the death of Horace Smith, one of the victims of the wreck. According to the verdict the collision of the two fast trains was due to the neglect of the crew of Train No. 3 in running past the meeting place at which they had orders to stop.

It is expected the three accused trainmen will appear for trial at the spring assizes, which open here May 14.

MARSHAL FOCH IS BURIED WITH IMPRESSIVE RITES

Paris.—Marshal Foch was laid to rest near the tomb of Napoleon. More than a million heads bowed as the great soldier was borne on a gun carriage from the stately gothic nave of Notre Dame Cathedral to the simple and severe chapel of the Invalides.

Church and State, separated in France for more than twenty years, united for the day to provide the devout Christian soldier with a national funeral unparalleled in pomp and magnificence. The world has seldom seen its like before and it is not probable that such a show of solemn splendor will be repeated in this age.

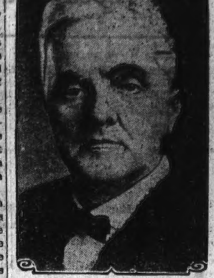

The Republic of France and the Church of Rome were joined by ten nations whose armies Foch commanded in the greatest of wars in helping honors upon the bier of the modest master of ten million warriors.

Most of the civilized world was represented at the church funeral ceremony, and in the cortege that moved with military pomp and precision through the streets and squares of Paris from Notre Dame to the golden dome of the Invalides. The great outpouring of people who watched the funeral procession provided the crowning glory of the great edition of honor and love which a grateful nation and friendly people of other lands have steadily built to the greater glory of Foch's name since the day he was chosen from all military commanders of the Allies to lead 10,000,000 fighting men under 10 flags.

Premier Poincaré, who was president of France during the war, said in his brief funeral address that Foch had had no other ambition than to serve, and had wished no other recompense than the assurance of having accomplished his duty.

Lightning Strikes

Peace Tower

Electric Storm At Ottawa Turned Day Into Night

Ottawa.—Batteries of a recent severe electric storm centred their bombardment upon Parliament Hill and lightning playing directly over the buildings, struck the Peace Tower and caused the mighty pile of granite to shudder with the shock.

Lightning conductors prevented any serious damage. Only the tower elevator was put out of order. A second blinding flash struck at the southeast corner of the centre block, just above the rooms of the press correspondent, causing some consternation. There was no damage here, however.

The storm made the day as dark as night.

To Study Tourist Traffic

New Subject Taken Up At German Academy Of Commerce

Berlin.—Scientific research of tourist traffic, including particularly a study of its causes and its social, political and economic effects, has been added to the curriculum of the Academy of Commerce of Berlin. Transportation methods, hotel management and the work of expositions and fairs will also be studied, while special courses will be arranged for directors and managers of hotels, spas, fairs and so forth. Library dealing with the subject is to be assembled by the academy.

GIANT GERMAN OCEAN LINER IS PREY OF FLAMES
Hamburg, Germany.—The mysterious fire which virtually destroyed the new North German Lloyd liner Europa, like catastrophe to have an important effect on the North Atlantic traffic war.

The Europa, a 46,000-ton vessel, was being built for five-day service with the Bremen between New York and the English Channel, and was considered a challenge to the Cunard White Star and Hamburg American lines.

The ship caught fire while only a few workmen were aboard her. She was scheduled to make her maiden voyage in July and construction was nearing completion when the fire broke out suddenly.

Cause of the fire probably never will be known, it was said, since it started in four places simultaneously deep in the hold. Experts did not believe it was arson, however.

The vessel was insured for 40,000,000 marks (about $9,500,000) but the loss was estimated at about 50,000,000 marks (about $11,800,000). Shipyard engineers claimed later, however, that the damage was not that large.

Although the ship was not a total loss several experts said it would be useless to rebuild it. The North German Lloyd Company was expected to refuse to accept it from the builders, Blohm and Voss.

The fire was spectacular. Starting before dawn, it was not brought under control until 3 p.m. The boilers, machinery, hull and lower decks escaped the fire.

None of the few workmen aboard when the fire started were injured, but a German was overcome. Eight hundred men were thrown out of work by the fire.

Chinese Law Courts Busy With Divorces

Number Of Cases Greatly Increased Under Nationalist Rule

Shanghai.—Divorce has come to China to stay. With the National Government more firmly entrenched and the women of the country quickly seizing their newly found freedom, the Chinese law courts daily are handling an increasing number of divorce actions.

Last year a record was set in Shanghai courts with a total of more than 1,400 divorces, a gain of more than 800 over 1927. In 1926, before the establishment of Nationalist rule in Shanghai, divorces failed to reach the hundred mark.

Survey of the 1928 divorces based on statistics compiled by the United Press, reveals that spring and summer are the "big" seasons, with fall and winter trailing quite a distance behind.

More than 60 per cent. of 1928's divorces were filed between May 1 and September 30, the remaining 40 per cent. in the other seven months of last year. December wound up the year with 75 cases, just a little more than 5 per cent. of the year's total.

Washington, D.C.—The sinking of the Canadian ship, Empress of Britain, in the Gulf of Mexico by a United States coastguard patrol has resolved itself into a question for settlement between the Canadian and United States governments.

Vincent Massey, Canadian minister at Washington. All discussion will henceforth be conducted between the Canadian and United States governments.
